CHAMBER LEADERS GIVEN OBLIGATION TO CARRY ON WORK

Six New Directors Chosen and Selection Announced at Annual Meeting

ALLEN REVIEWS PROGRAM

160 Persons Attend Banquet With Varied Entertainment Offered

Six new directors of the Upland chamber of commerce and civic association and six of the "hold-over" directors were given the obligation last night to carry on the vast unemployment relief work that was started early this year.

With approximately 160 persons in attendance the annual meeting of the civic organization was held in the Upland Woman's club house last night. The new directors chosen for a two year term are Roy Creighton, R. C. Norton, Clyde DuVall, Orton P. Brady, Kenneth I. Hanson and Ernest Olson. The other six directors are Albert C. Reynolds, Col. Wallace C. Taylor, Leigh Thompson, Norman S. Lawson, James E. Goodban and Owen Atwood.

High lights of the program were the presentation of a summary of the work done so far in 1933 by Avery S. Allen, secretary, remarks on the NRA program by Wiley W. Mather and musical and dancing numbers.

Work Is Described

How the membership fees of 248 persons have made possible the maintenance of an office organization to administer thousands of dollars of unemployment relief money was interestingly outlined by Mr. Allen in his annual report.

Ninety-five per cent of the time, he said, is devoted to allocating work to the scores ot needy persons who have applied at the local office. With from one to six dependents the men on the unemployed list are given in rotation, as far as possible, work on the various flood control and relief projects.

Early in the year the local unemployed relief committee pioneered in the field of obtaining money and providing work for the destitute. With the coming of the months, a county-wide relief committee was formed and through this organization now federal and state money is appropriated. C. E. Grier is head of the county committee.

Mr. Allen emphasized that men come to the chamber office for work as the last resort. Under a recently adopted system of registration the men definitely state that no other work is available, give a complete record of their local residence, other data, and sign the registration blank in the presence of a notary.

Program Interesting

Ernest Tweed Stone, retiring president of the organization presided in a pleasing style, and under his direction the program moved rapidly.

Mr. Mather pointed out that the NRA program has as its purpose more jobs, an increase in the buying power and a rise in prices. He discussed the various points concerned with regulation of business, labor and capital, and he emphasized that a revival of old-time standards is necessary.

Students from the Dorothy Williams Dance Studio, Ontario, appeared in song and dance numbers, with much interest shown in the appearance of Phyllis and Sheldon Swan, daughter and son of Mrs. Edna Swan.

Allowed to stop only after they had played five encores, Tony Beletrutti and Flora Audenino brought the program to a very enjoyable close with selections on the accordion and violin.

Mrs. Plum Honored

Many local persons were commended for their work during the year by Mr. Allen and Mr. Stone. Singled out for special recognition for her untiring work in the chamber office was Mrs. Adelaide Plum, public stenographer. She devotes much of her time in handling the routine of issuing grocery orders to the destitute, issuing checks to the men who have worked on the projects and in other details.

Col. Taylor as chairman of the financial committee was also commended for his close attention to the work. He was not present, his financial report being read by Mr. Reynolds.

Total receipts for the year were $1535, and as the year closed, sum of $330 was on hand, with some bills outstanding.

An urgent appeal to join the chamber of commerce and civic association for the coming year was made by Mr. Stone. The new board of directors will decide the membership fee and conduct a membership campaign.

The chamber period just ending began Jan. 1 and for the nine months period the fee was only $4. In the future the fiscal year will end at this time, the change in the fiscal year being made by the directors in the interest of a larger membership enrollment.

As the year closes, six persons who have served as directors for two years retire from the board. They are Mr. Stone, J. Emery Sargent, H. M. Guy, L. N. Kirk, Paul Schowalter and Ernest Mehl.

The banquet served by the Upland Woman's club was a big factor in the success of the meeting. The club women are gaining a wide reputation for their banquet table offering and the menu last night will spread that reputation.

Building Permits in Big Aug. Increase

Indicating a definite revival in building activities here, seven permits for construction were issued during August by the city building department, Ted C. Combs, inspector, reported today. While the permit total is not large, the number of different reconstruction and new building projects indicates a wide interest in the activity.

Total for the month was $3800. This adds to the 1933 total so far and if the increase continues this year's total will compare favorably with past records, Mr. Combs said.

Permits were issued to the following, with the totals given: Charles J. Persins, 850 Fourth avenue, addition to residence, $100; Mary I. Wilson, 501 East Foothill boulevard, filling station, $400; Elmer J. France, 577 Eighth avenue, two-car garage, $100; Dr. A. J. Colgan, 469 Second avenue, dental clinic, $1,000, for Dr. Earl Wenger; Mrs. Dorothy Tinsley, 367 West street, chicken house, $1000; Magnolia Building and Loan Assn., 725 Washington boulevard, remodeling residence, $900, and William Morton, 369 West Ninth street, remodeling chicken house, $300.

GRIER RETIRES AS LOCAL BUSINESSMAN

Head of County Supervisors Will Leave Grier & Redmon Firm—Hall Honored

C. E. Grier is retiring from active participation in business here.

The firm name of Grier & Redmon will be maintained, but Mr. Redmon will be the owner of the business and under this name he will continue his real estate activities.

The insurance business, developed and maintained by the firm, will be handled by J. W. "Bill" Hall, who for years has been employed by Grier & Redmon.

Mr. Grier, who is chairman of the county boardd of supervisors, said that county business has become so pressing that he has found it necessary to drop his interests in the realty and insurance concern. In 1919 he entered the realty business with the partnership being formed with Mr. Redmon in 1923.

Since that time the two men have handled many local sales and a large insurance business.

Under the new arrangement, effective today, Mr. Redmon will carry on alone under the Grier & Redmon name, with Mr. Hall becoming successor to Grier & Redmon in the insurance business.

Mr. Hall has been a resident of Upland for many years. During his years of service with Grier & Redmon he has become associated with many people and has many friends who join in wishing him success in the insurance business.

Both Mr. Redmon and Mr. Hall will maintain offices at the present East Ninth street location of Grier & Redmon. Mr. Grier, however, said he would be unable to spend much time here. His county governmental duties will require his presence in San Bernardino every day.

10,000 WILL COME TO RODEO, BELIEF OF LOCAL OFFICER

Best Riders in West To Perform Sept. 9, 10 on Lone Hill Arena

EVENT WELL SUPPORTED

Benefit for California Patrolmen's Fund—To Center Eyes on Upland

Performers in the World's Congress of Rough Riders in the Los Angeles Coliseum tonight will come to Upland Sept. 9 and 10 to participate in the rodeo to be sponsored by the California highway patrol at Lone Hill, Louis Kronmeyer, one of those in charge, announced today.

The local event, planned as a benefit for the dependents of deceased California highway patrolmen, is looked upon in the wild west riding fraternity as one of the most important rodeos in the southland. The coliseum event annually attracts the best riders in the country and almost as a group the participants will move out here.

Mr. Kronmeyer said that the out-door stadium had a capacity of 5000 and that indications pointed to 10,000 coming here in the two days.

Lone hill has been terraced to provide seats like a grandstand The arena will be on the east side of the hill toward the northern end. Sum of $600 is up as prize money and winners of the various events will win a big stake. Twenty-eight bucking horses will be used, but before any rider can get any money, he must stay on Tumble Weed, Hoot Gibson's prize bucking broncho

For several weeks the patrolmen have been preparing for the event and the rodeo is being widely advrtisd. As an indication of the interest shown in the event, the rodeo leaders have obtained support from many of Southern California's large industries. As the rodeo proceeds will go to a fund to support dependents of patrolmen killed in action, many organizations are aiding the event, and wide advertising and publicity is being given.

This is the fourth year of the appearance of the World's Congress of Rough Riders in Los Angeles and the fact that many of the riders to appear tonight are coming here is an indication of the interest shown in the Upland event.

"Of course, there will be pageant and preliminaries in Los Angeles that we won't have, but in general, it will be about the same show," Mr. Kronmeyer said today in discussing the coming event.

Hoot Gibson may come, but due to a recent injury, his presence is uncertain. Skeeter Bill Robbins, a famous rodeo promotter and participant, will come, bringing with him a large following.

Rev. Hostettler Will Arrive Here Sept. 27

Rev. and Mrs. Lester Hostettler and family will arrive in Upland about Sept. 27 and at that time Rev. Hostettler will assume the pastorate of the Upland Mennonite church.

Word was received yesterday by Miss Linda Schmidt of the new pastor's plans. He attended the general conference of the Mennonite church and about Sept. 10 he plans to leave his present home at Sugar Creek, Iowa, for Upland.

Word has also been received from Rev. A. J. Neuenschwander concerning his trip east after leaving Upland. He and his family drove 3100 miles. Rev. Neuenschwander also attended the church conference.

200 Gallons of Gas Stolen From Rancher

Two hundred gallons of gasoline were taken from a gasoline storage tank and pump on West Thirteenth street, owned by the Davis Brothers, Ollie Davis has reported to Upland police.

The pump is the usual type used for gasoline and the thief unlocked it, took out 200 gallons, locked the pump and escaped, according to the report on file today. Several months ago gasoline was taken in a similar manner, and the police are working on clews.

Only Students in Local School District Can Attend in Upland

Students living outside the Upland elementary school district cannot attend the Upland schools without obtaining a permit to do so from Miss Ida M. Collins, county superintendent of schools, and in operation of the rule persons living within the Upland district cannot attend elementary school in any other district.

Harold W. Cook, local superintendent, made the announcement today concerning this new attendance rule. The last state legislature passed a law prohibiting inter-district attendance, and in a letter from Miss Collins Mr. Cook and other school officials were advised not to enroll any student not in the Upland district, without a special permit to do so.

This new rule will affect quite a number of local students, some who were living just outside the district on the east and on the south have previously attended here. They may still continue to attend here, if they can obtain a permit from Miss Collins. In the letter to Mr. Cook the county official said that no permit would be issued unless the reason was a valid one.

Boundary of the Upland school district on the east is Cucamonga avenue, oftentimes referred to as Grove avenue. The southern boundary is the Santa Fe tracks from Grove avenue to Benson avenue. At Benson the boundary line goes north to Ninth street, at which point it follows the city limits west and is a prolongation of the city limits to the western county line. The county line on the west marks the western boundary line, with the northern boundary line extending up into San Antonio canyon.

A group of Mexican students on Ninth street, east of Grove avenue, have been attending the Sierra Vista school here but under the new ruling these students will be taken to the Cucamonga school unless a permit is issued for them to continue to attend here.

Several families south of the Santa Fe tracks have been sending their children to the Upland school and several families in Upland have been sending their children to the Sixth street school in Ontario.

Mr. Cook emphasized that only one week remains prior to the opening of school, with registration of students at the junior high to come next Friday from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

J. R. CAMERON DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME

Ruptured Blood Vessel Cause of Death of Rancher, Inquest Reveals

Aneurysm and rupture of the aorta near the heart was the cause of the sudden death at 7:45 Wednesday morning of John R. Cameron, well known rancher of the Ontario and Upland districts, according to the findings of Ed. P. Doyle, county coroner. The inquest and autopsy were held Thursday at the Stone funeral home.

Mr. Cameron apparently was in good health when he arose and breakfasted at his home, 248 Tenth avenue, Wednesday morning, the fatal attack coming shortly afterward.

Mr. Cameron, who was 65 years old, came to Ontario 15 years ago from Omaha, Neb., and since that time had resided with his family in the Ontario and Upland districts, having lived in Upland in recent years. He owned the Omaha ranch on South Euclid avenue in Ontario and was a representative in this district for the Federal Farm Loan bank.

Surviving are his wife and a son Floyd D. Cameron of the parental home; two sisters, Mrs. A. W. Foster of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. George Batchelor of San Francisco, also one brother, E. A. Cameron of Alpaugh, Calif.

Funeral service was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Stone funeral home, with the Rev. Gordon Whipple of the San Dimas Baptist church, officiating. Interment took place in the Grandview cemetery in Glendale.

Local Store Reports Business Increase

Improvement in business is reported today by Cecil Eshelman, who recently opened a vegetable market at Ninth street and Second avenue.

"Thursday was one of the best Thursdays I have ever hed," Mr. Eshelman said. "We have had many good days, but this Thursday was one of the best. As for the reason, all I know is that people seem to be buying more."

And what is true of Mr. Eshelman's market is also true to a large extent of Roste's meat market and the grocery department of the Central market. The three firms are operating under the name of the Central market.

Seven Uplanders at Citrus Belt Meeting

Seven members of the Upland Lions club attended the citrus belt council meeting of the group in San Bernardino last night. Dr. Walter F. Dexter, president of Whittier college and new district governor of district No 4, was the speaker.

Representing the local club were President Earl H. Johnson, J. W. Scott, J. W. Mehl, Norman Lawson, Rev. Bert Foster, Everett Henry and Leigh Thompson.

W. B. SAGE SUFFERS INJURY IN WRECK

Well-Known Rancher Has Scalp Torn From Head When Car Crashes

As the result of extremely painful, though not necessarily critical injuries sustained in an automobile accident Wednesday morning, W. B. Sage of San Antonio Heights is under treatment in the Pomona Valley hospital.

Mr. Sage, with three neighbor boys, Willard and William Turner and Jerry Nichols, started to Newport Beach on a fishing trip Wednesday morning. In Brea canyon they ran into a fog so dense that all landmarks and road signs were obliterated and the car crashed into a post. Caught in the wreckage, Mr. Sage was literally scalped, a large portion of the scalp being ripped almost entirely from his head. Approximately 40 stitches were required to replace the scalp.

Mr. Sage was rushed to the Pomona Valley hospital and so far as has been determined his skull was not fractured, nor was he injured internally, the severe lacerations and bruises with the attendant loss of blood and nervous shock being the extent of his injuries.

The three boys escaped serious injuries, the Turner brothers receiving a number of cuts about the face and head and the Nichols boy sustaining minor cuts and bruises. The car was completely wrecked.

Mrs. Sage, who is enroute to Detroit and Toronto, Canada, for a two months visit with relatives and friends, has not been notified of the accident. Knowing that she had been planning for the visit for a number of months, members of the family decided not to call her back, since Mr. Sage's condition is not such as to cause alarm. Also they wished, if possible, to save her from the shock and worry such a message would cause her.

If Mr. Sage's condition permits, he will be brought within a day or two to the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Sage, of 476 East Ninth street.

E. W. Fischer Family Returns From Newport

Ernest W. Fischer, principal of Chaffey high school, Mrs. Fischer and their family have returned from Newport where they have made their home for the past three years, and are again occupying their home at 271 Laurel avenue. During the school terms while the family resided at the beach, Mr. Fischer divided his time between Upland and Newport Beach.

Miss Julia Fischer will enter the junior class at Chaffey high school while the others, Catherine, Ernest, Margaret and David, will attend Upland junior high and Fannie D. Noe schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wire and family, who have been occupying the Fischer home, have moved two doors south and are now located at 257 Laurel avenue.

375 ACRES GRAPE LAND SUBDIVIDED IN SMALL TRACTS

H. H. Thomas Property on Foothill Sold to Los Angeles Promoters

NEW HOUSES ARE LIKELY

One of Largest Transactions Here in Years Completed, Is Report

Three hundred and seventy-five acres of grape land, east of Etiwanda, is being subdivided into 40 acre tracts, as the result of a realty deal, announced today as being completed.

H. H. Thomas, Cucamonga, sold the property to Stoll and Hadys, Los Angeles subdividers, and the property is being resold by agents for the Los Angeles buyers.

This transaction was tentatively announced early this summer, and soon after the negotiations were started plans were made for cutting the property into 40 acre tracts. It is understood by Mr. Thomas that several deals have been made in the re-sale program and construction of several residences on the property is likelp.

Return of better prices for grapes has resulted in increased interest in the property, facing Foothill boulevard, one mile east of Etiwanda.

Mr. Thomas' transaction concerns the large number of acres figuring in a local deal for many years.

Pre-School Rally for New Students of Beulah College

A pre-school rally, planned especially in the interest of prospective students of Beulah college, was held last evening in the Fourth street park in Ontario with approximately 100 persons attending, including a dozen or more prospective students, many former students and their parents and members of the faculty.

The younger folk enjoyed several games and an interesting program was given, beginning with the introduction of the teachers by Amos Buckwalter, president-elect of the student body.

The outstanding feature of the program was an address by the new president of Beulah college, H. G. Brubaker, who recently returned from a year of study in the east. His subject was "Why I Accepted the Presidency of Beulah college," and in his remarks he emphasized the unusual opportunities for service afforded by such a position and such a school.

Other numbers on the program were songs by the Aeolian quartet, harmonica selection by two boys, and short talks by various students representing the different instructional departments of the school.

At the conclusion of the program ice cream and cake were served.

A fine spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm prevailed and both students and teachers are eagerly looking forward to the opening of school.

Tuesday, Sept. 12, has been designated as registration day and on Wednesday the opening chapel service and first class meetings will be held.

A number of students are expected to arrive at once from Iowa and others will come from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kansas and Oregon.

Local Lemons Sold For More Than Sum in Citrus Reports

Reports of the sale of local lemons at Philadelphia yesterday are slightly misleading, in that the fruit was sold by the Upland Lemon Growers through the California Fruit Growers Exchange early in July when the price schedule was much higher than at present.

The buyer of the fruit has apparently resold it, and the price quoted in the press reports yesterday and this morning are considerably less than the original selling price. The lemons were the Bear, Ruf-N-Ready and Cluster brands. The resale price ranged from $1.45 to $1.70 a box while the original selling price was about $3 a box higher.

Bogus 50 Cent Coin Is Passed at Game

A bogus 50-cent piece, passed for admission at the Upland Lemon Growers-Ontario Hotpoint game here Wednesday night has aroused the game officials to close inspection of the coins.

From Colton recently came reports of quite a few half-dollar pieces being in circulation, but this money in this district, as far as is the first appearance of the fake is known. As yet it is not known if the fake money here and the Colton money are identical, but the league money handlers are inclined to believe there is a connection.

L. O. Bowman, 604 Third avenue, returned Wednesday morning from Texas, where he went to accompany his brother, Charles Bowman, who became ill this summer while staying with his son in San Pedro. The trip was made on the Santa Fe. Leaving Thursday night, Aug. 24, Mr. Bowman and his brother reached the home of their sister at Tolar, near Granbury, Texas, Sunday morning, and Mr. Bowman left for home that evening, the entire trip being made in six days.

BOND VOTE RESULT WILL BE WATCHED

City Officials Interested in Possibility of Getting Relief Money

Residents and officials of Upland will watch with interest the outcome of a proposed bond election vote in San Bernardino. City officials of the county seat municipality plan to call a bond vote, with the hope of issuing bonds to finance the construction of a new city hall and plunge. The bonds would be purchased by the federal government.

The Upland councilmen have informally discussed the possibility of having a bond election here to provide money for the construction of a five million gallon reservoir or for some other unemployment relief project.

Efforts have been made by the city to obtain money for the project from the federal government, but the outlook for assistance is not bright. Only cities that cannot get money any other way may take advantage of the federal appropriation, Richard G. Manley, city service manager, reported to the local council.

Looking to possibilities of getting money, one councilman suggested that the people be asked to vote a bond issue. No action was taken.

If the San Bernardino residents, however, vote bonds to provide work for their unemployed, it is likely the prospect of voting bonds here may be brighter.

Construction of a large reservoir to replace the present reservoir on Fifteenth street is a project included in the city water department development program. Building of the improvement now would provide work for scores of local men.

Regardless of the means of financing the reservoir construction, payment of the obligation would not fall on the general city government, but on the water department. Income from this department would meet the bond interest and redemption payments.

Red Hill Activities To Be Increased Soon

Golfing activites at Red Hill Country club will soon be under way on a large program, but for the month of September Pro Tommy Sheehan has announced a low net and point tournament for today, Sept. 2 and 3.

Other scheduled activities at the club during the months include the monthly bridge party for 1 p. m., Sept. 20, and the Sunday afternoon tea at 4 p. m., Sept. 24.

Beginning in October Mr. Sheehan plans for several events that will attract many of the local golfers.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sheets, former residents of Kansas and cousins of Mrs. J. E. Engle, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Engle and other relatives and friends in the Upland district. For the past three years Mr. and Mrs. Sheets have been doing missionary work in Arizona and they are now preparing to go as missionaries to China after a tour of the eastern states.

ALL EMPLOYERS IN LINE OF NRA PLAN FOLLOWING SURVEY

Progress in Effort to Limit Hours, Hire More Men Being Made Here

BUSINESS SURVEY ENDS

Increase in Unemployment Here Experienced to Darken Earlier Outlook

Two employers not previously signing President Roosevelt's reemployment agreement joined the ranks this week as the result of the contact campaign launched by the local NRA committee.

With these two signing, employers in Upland were today 100 per cent back of the President's effort to limit the hours of the employes, to divide up work and to provide for a living wage.

Under the direction of four businessmen, every employer was contacted and was given a blank to fill out. A perusal of these returns by Kenneth Heinauer has revealed that additional persons have been given employment.

In a general report of the progress of the NRA campaign in Upland, those in charge said that the feeling of the general public is gradually improving, and that undoubtedly the united effort to swing business upward is bringing results. What is being done here, is being done in every community in the nation and the combined results are changing the spirit of the people.

Actual unemployment situation in Upland, however, is not showing the improvement now that it was early in August, according to reports from the office of Avery Allen, chamber secretary. Total of 163 men and women have reregistered for unemployment relief and direct aid, this number gradually increasing with the coming of each week.

During August, 95 transients received aid through the chamber office, as compared with 26 who were given assistance in July. Classified as transients are persons who are passing through, who give proof of being in need. When they qualify they are given a 25-cent grocery order on one of the local stores, the money coming from a federal appropriation.

A partial canvass has been made of the Upland housewives, but due to lack of supplies, the city-wide, house-to-house survey cannot be completed yet. Each woman will be asked to sign a consumer's card, in which she will be called upon to support the NRA program and the NRA employers.

Many Go On Church Picnic to Riverside

Youths and adults by the score joined today for the annual Methodist Sunday school picnic. The picnickers met at the church here at 9 o'clock this morning and went to Fairmount park, Riverside, for the day. They expected to return late this afternoon.

Members of the high school and young people's departments were going to picnic tonight at the Riverside park. Some of the group went this morning and they will remain there, to be joined by others this evening. Those going tonight are to meet at the church at 6 p. m.

Monday Will Find City Quiet, Stores All Closed

Labor day on Monday means a holiday for almost every one in Upland. All stores that usually close on holidays will observe the day, as well as the city and other employes.

In other words, when the stores close Saturday night, they will not open until Tuesday morning. The double week-end holiday will provide an opportunity for many to enjoy outings or to observe the two-day period quietly at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman and family of West Twenty-first street are enjoying a visit from Mr. Zimmerman's brother, A. C. Zimmerman of Casselton, N. D. Mr. Zimmerman, who is a prominent wheat buyer of the midwest, is on his vacation and plans to spend several weeks here with his relatives. He expects to enjoy a number of interesting trips during his visit.

Get Ready for School

Approximately 30,000,000 children, ranging from near-graduates to kindergarteners, will converge on our streets and highways this September, all approaching central points. Through the summer they have been scattered throughout the length and breadth of the land; now they are to be mobilized, crossing our city thoroughfares or country lanes in long lines going to school or coming home.

It is the solemn duty of every motorist to see to it that these youngsters have a safe passage. By following a few simple rules, he can help cut down the toll of 3,400 children killed and 152,550 injured in 1932. Every motorist should remember to approach a school zone with care; to slow down at all intersections; to watch his speed on curves in the country. Above all, he should look out for the unexpected. Children who meet after several months separation become so absorbed that they forget about the danger of dashing into the roadway, darting from behind parked cars, or trying to retrieve a ball from under the fender of a moving vehicle. The motorist must do their thinking for them.

The reduction in motor accidents to children of school age in the United States is the brightest picture in the safety movement, but there still remains much to be done to further reduce the number of tragedies—90 per cent of which are avoidable. Educators, school authorities and teachers constantly emphasize the dangers of modern traffic conditions to the children. The one person able to bring about great improvement is the motorist. He should drive at all times as he would if his own child were out in that crowd ahead.

The American System

The great virtues of the American system of government—as distinct from those prevailing in a great many other powers—are nicely exemplified by the recent troubles in Cuba.

We have had revolutions in America—and more lately than is usually realized. We had one when Wilson defeated Taft and Roosevelt, and came to office with an almost entirely different viewpoint toward government than those of his immediate predecessors. We had one last November, when two irreconcilable political philosophies opposed each other, and the new one triumphed. But these revolutions were obviously very different from those of the Cuban type—no form of government is so amenable as ours to orderly and decisive change, without disturbance and without violence, when the mass of the people desire it.

When the opposing factions met in Cuba there was bloodshed and chaos and sabotage, followed by martial law. The same thing happened in Russia and in Italy and Germany. It happened in Spain and Mexico. Dictatorships, whether by a king or a commoner who lifted himself by his own bootstraps, must be achieved by violence, and then must end by violence. Of the great powers, England and America are the outstanding examples of governments where the old order can be changed by due process of law, and where force of arms is never contemplated.

That is a fine testimonial to those who framed the Constitution with its fundamental principles of our system. They saw far ahead—farther ahead than we usually realize. And that is the best argument against those who would subject those principles to any short-sighted overhauling.

Japan Is Real Reason

San Bernardino Sun: We are building warships again. Our navy department has launched what is said to be the next to the biggest construction program in American history. We are to have 32 more vessels, including airplane carriers, heavy cruisers, light cruisers, destroyers, submarines and gunboats, costing a couple of hundred million dollars, built in private and public shipyards, over a period of three years.

This is being done by the most peaceful of world powers, which has labored hardest for naval disarmament. Why is it done?

A superficial answer might be that this construction is to bring our naval equipment up to equality with Great Britain, the only other power in our class, and to attain the limit set by the London naval treaty. But that limit is permissive, not compulsory.

A real and avowed reason is to provide work and help restore prosperity. The government can build ships for this purpose, along with other public works. But it would hardly be expected to build warships unless in themselves the ships served a useful end.

A New Invention

Santa Barbara News: A Burbank inventive genius claims to have discovered a process for making glazed concrete with a mirror-like surface, which will reflect distinctly surrounding scenes. Glazed pottery manufacture has been known for many decades, but the art of putting a reflecting surface on concrete is something new. The discovery, if the report proves to be founded in fact, should not only bring its inventor wealth, but prove invaluable in the realm of architecture.

Some of the most beautiful gardens employ large mirrors and translucent pools of water to secure added beauty through the medium of reflection. Mirrors having the ordinary quicksilver backing on plateglass have not been altogether satisfactory, since, however well protected they may be, they deteriorate. Pools are naturally limited. One can easily imagine how glazed concrete surfacing might dissipate these problems, opening up vistas of garden beauty never before dreamed possible.

Paper Without News

Redfield (S. D.) Journal Observer: A newspaper publisher over in Nebraska recently sent out an issue of his paper without a new item in it. All that the readers found were also on every page. Unaccustomed to such issues, subscribers called up in surprise and advertisers indignantly called at the office to inform the publisher that without reader interest their ads were of no value. To their surprise the publisher produced copies of local all-advertising sheets, patronized by these same business men, and inquired how it came that newspaper alvertising was so differnt, All of which simply recalls the fact that the newspaper which the subscribers wait for and which they read because of its reader interest, is the best advertising medium that can be found.

To Help Overproduction

Claremont Courier: By a bill passed in the last legislature, California is to spend $170,000,000 to run Sacramento river water into San Joaquin valley. At the same time the San Joaquin farmers are now letting grapes and peaches rot because of low prices and lack of market. What do we want with more arable acres at a cost of $170,000,000? That's one bill Rolph should have vetoed if he didn't so thoroughly enjoy seeing money spent and wasted.

We All Agree

La Habra Star: Financial "experts" from the United States are to help Cuba frame up a way out of her money troubles. If they are the same kind who have "experted" in this country the last 40 or 50 years, the end of the island republic is in sight.

And They Are Doing It

Hemet News: Not all the brains of America are enlisted in the president's service. Some of them are busy devising means for beating new taxes and federal requirements.

As One Editor Sees It

Beverly Hills Citizen: Any time the government would like to plow in every third subscriber and pay us for two, we will be found right here with our soup plate upturned.

Policeman: "Hey, what are you trying to do,"

Victim: "I'm trying to pull this lamp off the bridge, hic, my wife wants a bridge lamp."

DIGGING'EM UP - by WALT.

Fourteen Years Ago in Upland Reviewed

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Harn have returned from a motor trip to Bakersfield and Monterey. They were away for a week.

Dr. Howard Craig, son of Dr Wm. H. Craig, who is practicing dentistry in San Bernardino, expects to open an office in Upland as soon as the necessary equipment arrives from the east.

Upland students leaving this week to enter college in Newton, Kan., are L. J. and Oscar Horsch, Earl and Pearl Ledig and Fred Kintzi.

William Vernon left Tuesday for Golden, Colo., where he will enter the Golden School of Mines to take an engineering course.

R. J. Soper and family left this week for San Francisco, where they will make their home.

Miss Bessie Collingsworth, who has been clerking at Churchill's cafe during the summer, has gone to Pasadena to enter the Nazarene college.

Everett Fuller and Willard Dettweiler were among those who took the airplane trip over the city with the Los Angeles Times pilot yesterday. Willard is one of the Times newsboys and Everett is the son of E. P. Fuller.

Major and Mrs. R. R. Harrington, who are occupying the S. G. Moore residence, have purchased the E. H. Granger home on Euclid avenue and will move to their new home in October.

Going by way of New Orleans on the Southern Pacific, Mrs. L. E. Moser and daughter and son, Ruby and Allan, and Mrs. Chas. L. Dinger are enroute to Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. Dinger also will visit in Chicago and in points in Indiana, while Mrs. Moser and her children will spend some time in St. Joseph, Mo.

Mrs. W. A. Westlack will leave this week-end for a visit with her relatives in Iowa.

Irving Klindt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klindt, returned today from South America, where he has been for more than two years, employed as a chemist by the Braden Copper Co. in Chile and the Baxter Johnson Smelter Co., at Casapalca, Peru. Mr. Klindt is not enthusiastic about the charms of Peru, but was very well pleased with Chile.

Miss Nina Rice of Twentieth street, who will leave soon for the mission schools in Turkey, was given a jolly surprise party Tuesday evening by members of her Sunday school class. Attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. O. V Rice, Miss Rice, and the Misses Geneva Moremen, Vera MacLaren, Dorothy Trunkfield, Edna Donner, Corrine Hedges, Ruhanna Hedges, Isabel Smith, Amelia Donner and Percy Lucas, Dick Williams, Wan Lee, Fritz Edwards and Ernest Bridenbaugh.

Mrs. Bess R. Jones and her two daughters, Misses Elizabeth and Louise, are expected to arrive home Saturday from a two months visit in the east.

Dr. Thomas Nisbet, who has returned from France after many months of medical service, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. W. Nisbet. Another overseas guest in the Nisbet home is a nephew, the Rev. J. A. McGaughey, who has been in Y. M. C. A. work. He will remain here until his wife arrives from the Philippines.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodwin, Jr., (Mabel Speck) of San Diego, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Speck.

Norban Hargrove left Sunday for Los Angeles, where he will enter the California Brownsberger Commercial college.

Mr. aand Mrs. V. Wade Holden and family left today for Brunswick, Ohio, where they will visit for six weeks. They were accompanied by Miss Agnes Davies and Miss Marcia Cadnum.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lathrop of Marysville, Kan., arrived Saturday and are guests of Mrs. Alice Erixon.

Ten Years Ago Items of Interest to Uplanders

L. R. Bradley, president of the Upland chamber of commerce, and Mrs. Bradley and their daughters, Thelma and Nellie, have returned from a 1500 mile motor trip through central and northern California, where they visited at many places. One stop was made at Stanford university, where Mr. Bradley was once a student.

Mrs. Wm. H. Tuttle, president of the Upland Woman's club, requests all club women to can a few jars of fruit to be exhibited in the Upland booth at the Pomona fair.

J. E. Sargent, former resident of Upland, but more recently of Glendale, is the new manager of the local plant of the Fox-Woodsum Lumber Co. W. H. Andrews, who has been manager, and Mrs. Andrews have moved to Long Beach, where it is hoped the climate will benefit Mrs. Andrews' health.

Councilman L. E. Moser and Mrs. Moser and their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Moser, have returned from an outing and a ducking. The outing was being enjoyed at Balboa Island when the ducking occurred. Deciding to give the family a boat ride, Cleo, the boatman, induced his parents and his wife to enter a row boat. When they had been seated according to the boatman's liking, Cleo, himself stepped lightly in. Although his step was light, his weight was not and the boat sank silently beneath the shimmering waters of the bay, leaving Councilman and Mrs. Moser and the bride and groom standing in four feet of water.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. V. Barr will leave Monday for a six weeks tour of the eastern states. They will travel over the Canadian Pacific railroad and will spend most of their time in New York. Mr. Barr will attend the convention of the American Bankers association to be held in Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Anderson and son, Bobby, left yesterday for Brawley in the Imperial valley. Mr. Anderson is to teach auto mechanics in the Brawley high school.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tuttle have returned from a six weeks motor trip through Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

Mrs. O. K. Granger and Miss Harriett Granger left today for Santa Catalina Island, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Seares for the next 10 days.

After two years in Canton, China, where he was instructor in zoology in the College of Liberal Arts of the Canton Christian college, Archie Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Campbell, related some of his experiences in China at the Rotary club meeting today.

Kenneth I. Hanson has accepted the position of agricultural supervisor for the island of Kauki, Hawaii, and has been granted leave of absence for one year from his position as agriculture teacher and football coach at Chaffey. He will sail for Honolulu next Saturday.

Miss Thelma Bradley will leave this week for Springville, where she will teach school this winter.

Mrs. Henry Tinsley, who has been spending the past three months at her former home in Louisiana, returned to Upland on Monday.

J. L. Grahame announces that Paul Fetrow and Dorsay Glover will be on the force of the Grahame service station, beginning this week.

Leslie Head arrived Sunday from Lawton, Okla., and is visiting his brother, Earl Head, on Eighth avenue.

Lyman Clark, who has been with the Johnson & Brown grocery store, has resigned and is now bookkeeper for Roy Creighton's new service station.

Forestry Projects To Get Underway Soon

Five hundred tons of building material to be used on forestry projects are expected to be received in the county soon, with the largest building program undertaken in the San Bernardino national forest this year to be started about Sept. 1. The work will be done by members of the 15 C. C. camps in the forest.

Projects include a guard station to be located at Barton Flats, Camp Angelus, Big Pine Flats, Hook creek, Lake Arrowhead, Millard canyon and Miller canyon, one lookout station in Day canyon and six ranger stations.

New Book Reviews and News of Activities at Public Library

Two Important Books

A book which should find a hearty welcome in the studio, the school and the home is "Art and Nature Appreciation," by George Howard Opdyke. The recognized elements of appreciation and beauty are broken up into palatable and easily digested morsels. For the man on the street or the woman in the kitchen who really would like to know why others rave over a work of art in the museum or the building on Euclid or some other street, this book is clearly and sensibly written.

For the beginner, learning to read simple sentences in line, color, light and dark, then on to the study of reproductions in art galleries, this book will be of great assistance. To learn to read art in terms of art rather than in terms of artists, art history, and art criticism; to learn to judge art by personal analysis instead of by the analysis of others; in short, to learn to see is really the object of the book.

Another timely book is "Manchoukuo, Child of Conflict," by the Washington correspondent of "The Tokyo Hochi Shimbun," K. K. Kawakami. This volume is a sequel to "Japan Speaks on the Sino-Japanese Crisis." "While the world is discussing whether or not Manchoukuo should be recognized, Manchoukuo herself is making a steady and signal progress as a new state. For some years to come, this youngest of nations will be much in the limelight . . . . America will reassert the nonrecognition doctrine. For good or ill, the advent of Manchoukuo has registered a radical change in the Far Eastern situation. Certainly it is one of the most significant developments in the present century." You may form your own opinion by reading this book, the gift of the author to the library.

And now we have Emily Post with us! Absolutely no reason on earth for not knowing everything there is to know about etiquette now that "Etiquette," the "blue book of social usage," has arrived.

If you want to do the conventional thing at the proper time and to know the answer to any of the following questions (and a million others), "Are chaperons still necessary?" or "What should the young college man avoid in clothes?" or "Should you speak to a fellow guest or wait to be introduced?" or if you are anxious to know all about the correct thing in Washington or in state capitals, then consult Emily for she is the recognized authority in all matters of good taste.

Mrs. Three-In-One—cook, waitress, and tranquil and apparently unoccupied hostess—will know just how to serve an informal dinner and still show her guests "that hospitality is far more dependent upon personality than upon lavishness of provision."

POLICE UNITE IN CIVIL SERVICE AIM

Local Officers Belong to Protective Order Seeking Higher Standards

Upland police have joined with police in many other cities in the state in what is known as the Protective Order of Police. Purpose of the order is standardized police rules, uniform pay and other factors throughout the state. What is hoped for by the leaders is a civil service rank for the patrolmen and the officers.

From members of the Upland police department it is learned that the organization leaders believe that by educating the public to cooperate with the police officer and vice versa, a great step can be taken toward the elimination of crime.

They believe that by educating police officers and making better men of them that it will in turn have its good reflection on the community. They believe a police officer carries the safety and the morals of a community in the palm of his hand, and that he should be a good officer. They also believe that if the public expects good work from police officers, they, in turn, should give a police officer the following: His wages, pension, civil service, and other things that concern his welfare should be standardized from the smallest city to the largest one. He should be given first class equipment with which to fight the every day battle of the ever-increasing criminal element in the United States. The Protective Order of Police believes that police officers should be taken from politics and be allowed to do their duty in a fearless and efficient manner, and to that end will, as an organization, strive to do these things.

General Facts Pertaining To All U. S. Conservation Camps

The visit of the Southern California newspaper men to the various Conservation Corps camps closed at the camp at Big Bear, five camps having been visited and there being very much of a general similarity between them. The work done by members of all camps is also along the same lines and the following facts defining the work and projects will give our readers an understanding of what these young men are doing:

Fire lanes—A narrow clearing 4 to 6 feet in width made through heavy brush along ridges, in order that in case of fire large crews of men may be thrown into the area quickly for the purpose of widening the fire lane into a fire break. This is also used for back-firing purposes.

Fire hazard reduction — Consists of clearing roadsides of inflammable material for the purpose of preventing fire from starting at roadsides.

Snag disposal—Felling of dead trees which provide an extreme fire hazard when struck by lightning.

Public camp grounds — Serve two purposes: First, provide comfortable camping facilities for forest users, and second, for the purpose of concentrating forest users in areas where they can be patrolled from a fire hazard standpoint.

Water development projects—The cleaning up and walling of mountain springs in order that they may be usable by the public or fire fighters.

Check dams—(1) Small earthen or rock-filled dams that check the flow of flood waters for the prevention of erosion. (2) Small dams from 6 to 10 feet in height for the purpose of raising the levels of high Sierra lakes for the maintenance of a stream flow during the dry season and the protection of fish life.

Lookouts—A building on a high tower at a point where visibility is possible over a large area for the purpose of reporting forest fires that may start.

Drift fences—Substantial fences built for confining stock within limited grazing areas.

Tree thinning—In areas where dense growth of reproduction occurs, it is necessary to remove the weaker trees, giving room to the more hardy specimens for the purpose of allowing them to mature.

Insect control—The felling of trees infested with pine bark beetle and other forest insects stripping the bark from the tree and burning it.

Rodent control—The poisoning of harmful rodents on range lands.

Poison plant eradication—The grubbing out of plants such as black laurel and other harmful herbaceous plants that are poisonous to stock.

Truck trails—A narrow one-way road permitting the trucking of supplies and men into remote areas where fire control may be necessary.

Trails—Narrow pathways constructed on regular grades through the woods, making it possible for recreationists or fire fighters to gain access into the back country.

The one thing that makes discipline difficult in the camps is that there is no way of compelling obedience to any rules which are made. It would seem that regular army discipline would solve this problem, though camp officials stated they had little trouble in that regard. There has been some trouble in one of the camps, which authorities in charge stated was caused by agitators and this was eliminated when the disturbers were thrown out of the camp.

STUDENTS ENROLL FOR JUNIOR HIGH

Next Friday Is Date Set for Issuance of Books—Kindergarten Plans Made

Registration day for Upland junior high school students is Friday, Sept. 8, from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., and at that time text books will be issued and lockers and room assignments will be given, according to Harold W. Cook, principal of the school and superintendent of the local educational system.

Concerning kindergarten registration, Mr. Cook issued the following statement today:

Only children of kindergarten age who registered with Miss Ella Schmidt last spring are to be admitted to the first classroom session of the kindergarten at the Fannie D. Noe school Monday, Sept. 11. Children of kindergarten age who wish to attend kindergarten this year but who are as yet unregistered should register with Miss Schmidt after 11 o'clock Monday, Sept. 11.

"Your cooperation in this matter is asked in order that the classroom work of the first day of school may not be interrupted."

As a preliminary to the opening of school Monday, Mr. Cook has called a meeting of all the Upland teachers next Thursday at 3 p. m. Following a general meeting of the group, the teachers in the Fannie D. Noe school will meet with Miss Jessie Brown, principal, and the junior high school teachers with Mr. Cook.

Willard D. Ball Claimed by Death

Death has removed from the colony another active resident. Willard D. Ball, former mayor of Ontario, former president of the Ontario-Upland Realty board, and active in other civic affairs, died at Hayward early Wednesday morning.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the J. B. Draper & Co. Ontario chapel.

Mr. Ball has not been in good health for about two years, but his death came as a surprise to his many friends in the district. He and Mrs. Ball had been visiting in Hayward for a month.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Willard D. Ball, Jr., Beverly Hills; Emmett B. Ball, Ontario; a brother, Dr. F. S. Ball, Ontario, and a sister, Mrs. Eloise Disbrow, Lakewood, N. J.

It was approaching midnight and the young man still hovered around the door. The stillness was suddenly shattered by a loud crash upstairs.

"Gracious, dear," said the timid swain, "what could that be?"

"Oh," replied the miss, "that's just papa dropping a hint."

Pre-Nuptial Shower for Miss Anderson Is Merry Affair

Miss Winona Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Anderson, whose marriage to Lyle C. Henry will occur Saturday evening, was accorded a charming courtesy Wednesday evening when she was a guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. W. D. Phillips, 314 Monterey, Ontario, the hostesses being Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Charles E. Anderson of Upland.

The presentation of the many lovely gifts was made early in the evening and for some time the bride-elect and guests were occupied with the very pleasant task of inspecting and admiring the articles that are to find a place in the new home.

Concluding the social evening the hostesses served dainty refreshments.

Attending the shower and party were the honoree, Miss Anderson, and her mother, Mrs. J. Fred Anderson; Miss Betty Anderson, Mrs. Howard Ketcheson, Mrs. Agnes Kenniston of Pomona, Mrs. Lynn Griffith, Mrs. Fred L. Gloor, Mrs. Fred L. Gloor, Jr., Mrs. Beatrice Cruiase, Mrs. Fred W. Anderson, Mrs. Harold B. Anderson, Mrs John Templeton Mrs Ernest Reed, Miss Lois Tinsley, Miss Mary Pendleton, and the hostesses, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Anderson.

The Paul Schowalter Family Back Home From Motor Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schowalter and son and daughter, Donovan and Marilyn, returned home Wednesday night after a three weeks motor trip through the mid-west, every day of the time being crowded with visiting and sightseeing.

Enroute east they visited the petrified forest and stopped at other interesting places. In Gallup, N. M., they were caught in a cloudburst, the rain falling in such dense sheets of water that they could not see the radiator of the car. They were forced to stop the car in the middle of the street until the rain slackened.

In Kansas, relatives were visited in Newton, Hutchinson, Wichita, Moundridge and Halstead. Visits also were made in Kahako, Mo., and in Keokuk, Iowa.

The next stop was made in Chicago, where some time was spent in seeing the Century of Progress exposition, and in Rockfalls, Ill., the Schowalters visited Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ward, brother and sister-in-law of D. H. Ward, who lived in Upland for some time in recent years.

The motorists toured the Black Hills section of South Dakota and enjoyed the colorful scenery. They again encountered rain in the hills, three days of hard downpour, which turned the heavy clay soil into slippery, sticky mud. However, they all were good travelers and found fun in prying the car out of mud holes. No rain had fallen in that section since May 10 and the residents, if not the motorists, were delighted. A visit was made to the summer home of the late President Coolidge in the Black Hills.

In Salt Lake city a sightseeing tour of the city was made and they were fortunate enough to visit the big Mormon tabernacle at the time an interesting lecture was being given concerning the history of the magnificent temple, not far from the tabernacle, which no outsider has ever been permitted to enter. A description of the temple was given with an explanation of the significance of its many symbolical features.

From Salt Lake City the motorists came directly home, having traveled 5,616 miles in three weeks.

Great Artists Will Close Concerts in Hollywood Bowl

Three famous Metropolitan Opera stars, a gifted Italian orchestra conductor and a colorful ballet production are being presented in the brilliant closing programs of the twelfth annual Symphonies Under the Stars presented during the summer in the Hollywood bowl.

Grace Moore was featured on last night's program, and tonight the great tenor, Richard Crooks, will be the soloist.

Francesca Bragiotti and her ensemble will appear Saturday evening in a colorful ballet production, "Tales of Vienna Woods," danced to Strauss music.

For the final concert of the season, to be given Sunday evening, Sept. 3, Mary Lewis, soprano, will sing, her appearance being planned as one of the outstanding events of the series.

On each of these final nights the orchestra will be conducted by the gifted Italian, Bernardino Molinari.

Relatives Celebrate Four Birthdays

In celebration of four August birthdays for as many members of the Engle families, a large group of the relatives gathered on Tuesday evening as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Engle at the large two story home on Euclid avenue below Seventh street, which they are occupying at present.

Because of the coolness of the evening the plans for an outdoor party were changed and the group enjoyed the comfort of the spacious rooms.

A happy social evening was enjoyed, with readings and musical numbers providing entertainment. During the party refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

The four honor guests of the evening were Mrs. B. F. Engle and three of her grandchildren, Charles, Ruth and Nancy Joan Engle.

Attending the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Engle, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Engle and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Engle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Engle, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Engle, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Engle.

Physicians, Wives To Be Entertained at Picnic by Nurses

Taking the place of their usual social meeting on the first Monday evening of the month, members of the West-End Nurses club will be hostesses tonight to all west-end physicians and their wives, entertaning them with a picnic supper in Fourth street park in Ontario.

Miss Mae Newquist, president of the nurses' club, is in charge of arrangements and has announced that festivities will begin at 7 o'clock.

Three More Splendid Programs Given at Redlands Bowl

Some exceptional programs have been planned for the remainder of the season at the Redlands bowl, the last concert being scheduled for Sept. 8.

Tonight the artists will be E. Robert Schmitz, pianist, and Gladys Jolly Rosser, soprano. Mr. Schmitz is a French pianist of great ability, whose latest appearance was at Hollywood bowl, when he and Alfred Mirovitch gave a Mozart concerto that won such favor that an encore was demanded.

William Matchan, who will be the soloist following the community sing on Tuesday night, Sept. 5, is a young baritone of great promise. He has sung with the Los Angeles Symphony orchestra, having been especially successful in Wagnerian parts.

The final program, Friday, Sept. 8, will be presented by the Ernest Belcher Concert Dancers and is expected to furnish a brilliant conclusion of the summer series of outdoor concerts.

No admission is charged, the public being cordially invited to attend.

Picnic Frolic Plans Meet Approval of Business Women

Plans for the evening picnic frolic to be held on Friday, Sept. 8, are meeting with enthusiastic approval of members of the Upland Business and Professional Women's club, a number already having announced their intention to attend.

The attractive garden at the home of Miss Luella Whitney, 115 West San Bernardino road, Cucamonga, will be the scene of the special event and the frolic is expected to be just what that term indicates, a merry evening of nonsensical fun, with no time for seriousness.

Early in the evening a picnic supper will be served. Each member is to bring supper for herself and her guests and the various dishes will be placed in miscellaneous array upon the long table with which the garden is equipped and will be served in the good old-fashion picnic way.

The remainder of the evening will be devoted to various games and contests which will require no sustained mental effort but are expected to produce much merriment.

Mrs. Maud M. Linsley, first vice-president and program chairman, is in general charge of arrangements for the picnic and she is appointing other members to assist her.

The club members will have the privilege of bringing members of their families or friends as guests and a large attendance is expected.

Ruth Mathews Gives Charming Luncheon for Miss Bowden

Complimenting Miss Gladys Bowden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Bowden, who is planning soon to begin her university work, Miss Ruth Mathews entertained a group of mutual friends at a delightful bridge luncheon given Thursday at the Padua Hills inn.

Miss Bowden, who graduated last spring from Chaffey junior college, is preparing to enter the University of Ariona and expects to leave on Sept. 11 for that institution.

Mixed flowers in charming array were used as the decorations for Miss Mathews' party and following the luncheon a merry afternoon was enjoyed, the major portion of the time being devoted to bridge playing.

At the conclusion of the animated tourney the hostess awarded score prizes, Miss Elizabeth Goddard winning first, Miss Dorothy Thompson, second, and Miss Louise Norton, consolation. Miss Bowden was presented with a lovely guest prize.

Sharing in the pleasures of the afternoon were Miss Bowden Miss Barbara Bridge, Miss Elizabeth Goddard, Miss Naomi Martin, Miss Lucille Hansen, Miss Ruth Hilty, Miss Esther Guy, Miss Louise Norton, Miss Dorothy Thompson, Miss Jeane Oswald of Fullerton, Miss Marie Jones and the hostess, Miss Mathews.

District School of Instruction To Be Conducted Sept. 8

An all-day school of instruction for the Fifth district. California Parent-Teacher association will be held on Friday, Sept 8, in the Baptist church at the corner of Seventh and Eighth streets in Colton, according to an announcement made today.

Mrs. Fred Arth of Redlands, district president, will open the morning session at 10 o'clock, introducing Mrs. O. M. Robertson of Arlington, third state vice-president, who will be assisted by other state officers in conducting the classes.

Instruction will be given in magazine, publicity, finance, membership and general extension work.

Luncheon will be served at noon and reservations are to be made with the various council presidents, members of the Ontario council making reservations with Mrs. C. L. Cochran, telephone Ontario 815.

Kelvinator Event Is Attraction to Many

Upland women are eager for information concerning electric refrigerators and suggestions for using them as indicated at the second "Cooking With Cold" demonstration held under the sponsorship of J. H. Siegrist, local Kelvinator dealer, in the Upland Woman's clubhouse Wednesday.

Mrs. Fay Newsom conducted the demonstration.

Mr. Siegrist welcomed the women to the demonstration and he attributed the public's acceptance of Kelvinator not to super-salesmanship, but to Kelvinator's enviable record.

He also expressed his appreciation for the cooperation received from those in attendance, from Roste's select meats, and from Eshelman's vegetable market.

Mrs. Newsom presented many interesting features of cooking with cold and the women in attendance were very responsive.

The Pullman conducter one night saw a red lantern hanging on one of the lower berths so he looked up George, the porter, and said: "Say, George, why is that red lantern hanging on that lower berth?"

George replied: "Well, boss, rule 23 in my book says that you should hang up a red lantern when the rear end of the sleeper is exposed."

NRA Leisure Adds to Opportunity of Public Libraries

The NRA, giving leisure to millions, has brought new responsibilities to the public library, says Mrs. F. H. Manker, librarian of the Upland public library.

Its part in the NRA program is to concern itself with that "kindergartner," the man or woman who has never learned to play or to make leisure add to self-improvement, vision and culture. This new task will bring the library out of its modest corner and put it into the front rank of agencies destined to make this new leisure a great gift fallen to earth from the lap of the gods.

What use will the market attendant make of his 30 hours of leisure suddenly thrust upon him? How will the bank attendant, the mechanic, the clerk and countless others spend their five to ten hours a week? The libraries are ready to assist, with books and expert direction, these new owners of leisure so that they may make the most satisfactory use of their time.

Up to now, the province of the library has been largely that of an informational workshop and a center of self-education. During the past year it has been especially called upon to aid people in keeping up their morale with philosophical books, in adding to their knowledge and skill in trades in order to increase possibility of re-employment, in supplying something "to make me forget it all for a while," and in furnishing free recreation. Now the library must join forces with the school in training not only for work but more and more for leisure. Providing for play has become a major objective for the future.

C. D. Burns, in his book, "Leisure in the Modern World," says that "Civilization may depend for its roots upon the way in which its work is done, but it depends for its finest flower upon the use of leisure. What a man does in his leisure changes the tone of atmophere of the whole of the society in which he lives."

To the man or woman yawning with the boredom of leisure the library can contribute to the play of the mind through the five fine arts—literature, music, painting, sculpture and architecture. It can answer the new appeal—"Wanted: Information and education for leisure."

Philippine Native Demonstrates New Weaving Invention

Juan G. Maza, a native of the Philippine Islands and a former resident of Upland, has perfected a remarkable invention for the manipulation of cotton, which he hopes to introduce into the homes of his own people in the Philippines, where cotton is easily and commonly grown.

Mr. Maza demonstrated his machine recently to a number of his American friends at the home of Mrs. Adelaide Marshall on First avenue. The invention may be said to be a three-in-one machine, since it performs six distinct operations, beginning with the separation of the lint from the seed. The cotton lint is spun, reeled, and finally wound on a bobbin ready to be placed in the shuttle used for weaving cloth in the home loom.

This easily operated machine is expected by its inventor to be a real boon to the Philippine women, who spin and weave the clothes worn by their families. Mr. Maza has applied for a patent and expects soon to take his machine to his native land. He also has patented several other inventions, the cotton machine being his latest effort.

While living in Upland the young inventor, who is now employed in Escondido, was one of the numerous Filipino boys taught by Mrs. Marshall and it afforded him much satisfaction to be able to demonstrate his successful invention in her home.

Mrs. Minnie D. Goodrich had the pleasure of entertaining Wednesday and Thursday her brother, Harry Denison of Honolulu, this being his first trip to Upland, his boyhood home, in five years. Mr. Denison has just returned from an eastern business trip and he will sail for his home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Flickinger and son, Ray, Jr., left yesterday morning for Minneapolis, Minn., on a business and pleasure trip that will keep them away from Upland for nearly a month. In the east is another son, and the local couple will bring him home with them. Pete Benton will be in charge of the Flick station during the absence of the proprietor.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lamphear and daughters, Miss Lorene and Thelma, and son, Leon, accompanied by Mrs. Lamphear's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lipscomb and two children of Los Angeles, and Francis Wilson of East Fifteenth street, left Thursday morning for a camping trip into the High Sierras. They expect to be away for several days.

Robert Thompson, young son of Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Thompson, is engrossed with preparations for entering the Rainford Military school for boys near Puente, where he will study this coming school year. Strictly a military institution, the school is located on 96 acres of the historic old Workman rancho, on which the famous Governor Pico is buried. Major Lewis is in charge. Robert expects to go to the school about Sept. 18.

Mrs. G. R. Sturdivant, of 561 Eighth avenue, is enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. Nellie Blackman of Covina. Mrs. Blackman expects to remain for about 10 days.

Oscar Pritchett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pritchett of Twenty-fourth street, whose health has not been good for some time, has been sent to the Loma Linda sanitarium for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McIntosh of Los Angeles are spending several days with Mr. McIntosh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Walk, of East Ninth street, who has just returned from a trip to Tennessee. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh also are visiting with Mrs. McIntosh's mother, Mrs. Clara Tilden, 253 Campus avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Walk, of 744 East Ninth street, and their son, William Walk, and daughter, Miss Thelma McIntosh, who is a nurse in the Seaside hospital in Long Beach, have returned from a motor trip to Tennessee. They spent 10 days in Memphis, their former home, and visited also in Ripley, Covington and other places in Tennessee, having been gone one month.

Leaving early Wednesday morning, Mrs. James E. Goodban and children, Doris, Alan and Dale, motored to Big Bear to enjoy an outing at the mountain resort with Mrs. Arthur H. Pehl and children, Dickie and Jean, who are vacationing there. Mrs. Goodban and the children will return Saturday and will be joined by Mr. Goodban in a week-end camp in San Antonio canyon.

Friends of the R. W. Doig family, who left here late in June for their former home in New York, will be interested to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Doig have located for the winter in Worcester, where their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ferguson (Margaret Doig), whose wedding occurred early in July, are nicely located in their new home. Mr. and Mrs. Doig expect to remain in Worcester until next spring, when they will locate permanently in Walton. These plans were revealed in a letter from Mrs. Doig received this week by Mrs. G. R. Sturdivant.

Kermott, Jack Kermott, Miss Virginia Lee, Miss Areta Wheatley, Eddie Reese of the U. S. S. New York, Mr. and Mrs. George Gardiner of Los Angeles and several friends from other places.

This City Soon to Have Much Action

School opens soon.

All Uplanders will be back from their vacations soon.

Some houses in Upland are for rent now. Soon there will be none.

The citrus spraying season is undarway.

It won't be long until the harvesting of the 1934 navel season will be employing many persons.

In other words, this community is today on the verge of much activity. It escaped the effects of the "past" depression more than did some communities in the southland.

Interest is now centered on school and its allied activities.

Citrus growers in general are looking to the returns of the 1934 crop, and the indications are that when those returns are received, this community will begin to enjoy normal business, with very little, if any, unemployment.

Mrs. John Maffett and family have returned to their home in San Antonio Heights, after spending most of the summer at Balboa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Ryan and baby will be in San Diego over the week-end and Labor day holiday, visiting friends and relatives.

Miss Lena Stalter returned to her home here Wednesday after spending several months in Illinois and Indiana visiting with her brother and sisters.

Having left Monday by train, Mrs. J. H. Freeman of Vernon drive is enjoying a restful vacation in Sequoia national park. She is stopping at Giant Forest lodge and expects to be away for a week or more.

C. M. Huston, Ontario, and known to many in Upland, has been appointed appraiser for the federal land bank in California. He has been assigned to the Berkely office and will work out from that city.

Miss Eunice Widmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Widmer of San Antonio avenue, submitted to an operation for the removal of her tonsils at the San Antonio Community hospital this morning. She was getting on nicely this afternoon.

Miss Lillian Widmer, who has been teaching in the city schools in East Orange, New Jersey, for several years, has returned to that city following a two weeks visit here with her parents and sisters. Miss Widmer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Widmer of San Antonio avenue.

The Labor day program at Camp Baldy will be enjoyed Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weber and Mrs. Weber's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Bergstrom of Salt Lake City, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Jessup, Mr. and Mrs. Mart Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Brown.

Clarence Drake, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Drake of San Bernardino road, and Howard LaPlant, son of Mrs. T. I. LaPlant of East Eleventh street, have returned from a week's outing in San Antonio canyon. The boys occupied a cabin at Eleven Oaks and spent much of their time on the mountain trails and streams.

Mrs. N. M. Nelson and her daughter, Isabelle Nelson, arrived this morning from Salem, S. D., to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Anderson, Euclid avenue. Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Anderson are sisters and the visitors will be here for the school year Mrs Nelson and her daughter left home Sunday and after touring the Black Hills they drove directly through to Upland, making the trip in four days and arriving here this morning at 7 o'clock.

Miss Bertha Goodrich returned Thursday evening from an enjoyable motor trip through northern California. Miss Goodrich was accompanied by Miss Gertrude Rice of Pomona, and they motored as far north as Eureka, stopping at several places to visit with friends, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McCulloch, who are spending the summer at their mountain home near Viola. The motorists were away nearly three weeks.

Mrs. W. Merle Rash arrived today from her home in Flagstaff, Ariz., for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Smith of 92 West Arrow highway. She expects to remain for several days. Another daughter, Mrs. Ralph Reynolds (Pauline Smith) and Mr. Reynolds, who have been studying at U. S. C. this summer, will come out from Los Angeles for a week-end visit with Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Rash. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds will go on to Bakersfield to be ready for the opening of school next week.

Printing that pleases at the Upland News.

RESORTS READY FOR CAPACITY HOLIDAY

San Antonio Canyon Centers Planning for Throng on Double Week-End

Recognized as their final chance to get vacationers into their institutions before the coming of the fall season, resorts in San Antonio canyon are today anticipating a large crowd over this week-end and Monday, according to a survey today.

Reservations at several of the resorts have been large as compared with other week-ends and it was reported at Camp Baldy that all the cabins have been reserved.

Special entertainment is planned at Camp Baldy, with other resorts making possible a pleasant and restful vacation for their patrons. In general the number at the resorts this summer has been larger than a year ago, and one of the largest crowds of the season is expected.

The Camp Baldy swimming pool will be the scene of special contests Sunday afternoon.

College Heights

COLLEGE HEIGHTS, Sept. 1.—After a vacation of three weeks the music appreciation class of Mrs. Arthur N. Munger of Central avenue, met again on Monday at the home of Mrs. Munger. On the roll call were ten students. They have been making marionettes and were pleasantly surprised by a call from George Young of Pomona, who is an expert puppeteer and who gave the children considerable valuable advice about their work.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Craig, recently of Central avenue, who recently purchased the Boutell house for their home, are now residing there. Mr. Craig is very well known in this vicinity, and Mrs. Craig is better known in Los Angeles, her ancestors coming overland to California in 1849 in covered wagons. Mr. Craig is an accountant in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Jessup of Tenth street have been enjoying a visit from their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Searle (Mildred Jessup) and their two sons, Tom and Gid, of Toledo. The visitors made the trip by motor, arriving last Wednesday and leaving for their eastern home Monday. Some years ago Mr. and Mrs. Searle made their home in Upland.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jessup and their two children, of Montebello Park, joined the eastern visitors in a family reunion at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Jessup.

Evelyn Foote left today for Escondido, where she will spend a week with friends.

Little Dorothy Hoff entertained Wednesday in honor of her little guest, Evelyn Brubaker of La Verne. Her guests included Jean Scott of Upland, Bernice and Lois Foote and Joan Morgensen, Tenth street. Refreshments were served by Dorothy's mother, Mrs. P. C. Hoff.

B. A. Null and family spent today at Huntington Beach fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Woods of Holtville, who have been visiting at the B. A. Null home, left Wednesday to spend some time at the beaches.

Four Accidents in Month, Record Here

Only four accidents occurred in the Upland district during August according to a report of local police activities for the month, compiled this afternoon by Officer Cecil Myers. A copy of the report goes to Sacramento and to Washington, D. C.,

Other features of the report follow: Arrests—petit theft, 1; reckless driving, 1; crime against nature, 1; contributing to the delinquency of minors, 1; arrested on warrant, 1; sleepers in jail, 5; booked in jail, 4, and doors found open in local stores by night patrolmen, 7.

Students Leave for State Fair Monday

About 20 students of Chaffey high school will leave Monday morning for Sacramento, where they will participate in the annual stock judging contests at the state fair. Charles A. Perrin, director of the high school agricultural projects, will be in charge of the group.

Students from many high schools in the state will participate. Among those certain of going from Upland are Robert Groff and Dean Keller, with several others likely to be in the group.

A gum-chewing girl and a cud-chewing cow
Are somewhat alike, yet different somehow;
But how can that be? Oh, yes, we see now—
It's the calm thoughtful look on the face of the cow.

Police To Check on Transients Tonight

A check up is to be made throughout the citrus district tonight on the transients in this district, orders for the survey coming from Perry Green, county coordinator of relief work. This is part of the state-wide plan to ascertain how many transients there are and where they are going.

The Upland police and Avery S. Allen, chamber secretary, will be in charge of the check up here, with the police in other cities asked to aid. Reports of the results will be sent in and it is unofficially reported that some project may be established to remove the transients from the roving occupation.

Very few transients will be found here, it is believed, although the popular location for such residents on Eighth avenue at the Santa Fe tracks will be visited, as well as other local points.

Sales Tax Head Gives Rules As to Who Are and Are Not Exempt

New interpretations of the state sales tax requirements have been made by W. C. Shay, administrator for this district.

In general, such persons as opticians, oculists can collect a tax only when they make sales and not when they give a service.

Photographers are to collect a tax when they get pay for developing negatives, but they are not to collect a tax for the cost of developing a film.

Shoe repairers and shoe shiners are tax exempt on their services in the usual run of business, but when they sell merchandise, such as shoe strings and polish, they must pay a tax. Barbers and beauty shop operators are also exempt because their income is for service, unless they make direct sales of supplies, in which case a tax is to be collected.

In general, services of any kind are not taxable, but when concerns and individuals make sales, regardless of the class of business, a tax is to be collected, according to Mr. Shay.

Doctor, can't something be done about my husband talking in his sleep? It's all so indistinct!"—Life.

Half and Half

Agitator—You should give me half of all you have.

Old Farmer—All right. All I have is rheumatism and toothache. Which one will you have?

A board was testing the mentality of a negro.

"Do you ever hear voices without being able to tell who is speaking or where the sound comes from?"

"Yessuh," answered the negro.

"And when does this occur?"

"Over the radio."

"I suppose at the efficiency expert's wedding you didn't do anything so wasteful as throwing rice."

"Oh, yes we did; but as a concession to his teaching we had the rice done up in cotton bags, each missile weighing two pounds."

A minister discovered two of his flock playing cards on Sunday—and for money.

"Rastus," he said, "don't you know it's wrong to play cards on the Sabbath,"

"Yes, parson," replied the sinner ruefully, "an,' believe me ah's paying for mah sins."—The Humorist.

YOUNG WHITNEY IN SCIENTIFIC DEBUT

15-Year-Old Uplander Tells Lions Much About Arctic Explorations

Sufferings of explorers in an effort to reach the arctic regions, and the part played by sleds and dog teams, were vividly portrayed in a remarkable paper read by Braddo Whitney at the meeting of the Upland Lions club in the Red Hill Country club yesterday noon.

Only 15 years of age, the speaker, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bradford Whitney, presented in his first public appearance, the results of two years' study of arctic explorations.

His account concerned largely the explorations of Captain R. Cook in 1902, 1910 and 1911, who, through continuous blizzards and ice, sought to place the English flag on the south pole.

With the study of science given as the only apparent reason for entering that region, the young student of explorations traced the history of attempts and of the romance and spirit of adventure that filled the members of the various parties.

A reproduction of sleds commonly used, and a complete outfit in miniature were displayed, all of these being made by young Whitney, or under his direction.

Only after close study and persistent work was he able to present the interesting discourse and the exhibits. Members of the club closely followed his relation of history and the words were uttered in a manner that indicated a wide knowledge of this rare phase of study.

Norman Lawson, who had been observing the work of the young Uplander, was program chairman and had the honor to present this youth who is likely to go far in the scientific world. Father of the speaker, A. Bradford Whitney, is a member of the club. George Whitney, another son, and Bevington Blakeslee were guests.

Granada Gives List of Week-End Programs

Here is the line-up of pictures at the Fox Granada theatre, Ontario, theatre-goers cannot fail to appreciate.

Debonair Edmund Lowe and fascinating Wynne Gibson in "Her Bodyguard" and Charlie Chase comedy, "The Silent Racket," end tonight.

Saturday, for the one day only, will be "Emergency Call," with Bill Boyd and the "Original Beverly Hill Billies" in an entirely new and novel stage show at all performances.

Sunday brings a great show combination team to the screen for three days, Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery in the famous Saturday Evening Post story, "Tugboat Annie." On Monday, Sept. 4, Labor Day, the shows are continuous from 2 p. m. until 11

New Law Aids Persons With Delinquent Taxes

Several new laws made by the state legislature this year concern persons who have been unable to pay their taxes on real property.

One measure, Senate Bill No. 93, permits the redemption of any real property sold to the state on or before Sept. 6, 1933, without the payment of any costs, interest, delinquency penalties or redemption penalties, except interest on the aggregate amount of the taxes, according to a memorandum of the measure received here.

The redemption can be made by paying the amount of all delinquent taxes in 10 annual installments, the first installment to be made by April 20, 1934.

Dr. Engle will bring messages at the sanctuary services: 11 a.m., "The NRA and Christianity"; 7:30, "Youth Looks at Life." Institute echoes by the delegates, and a brief message on "Into the Light."

There will be a meeting of the church board on Wednesday at 8. Official members are asked to be present to face the fall responsibilities at the onset.

ONTARIO CHRISTIAN
Shirley R. Shaw, Minister

Rev. Albert Bunney will occupy the pulpit of this church on Sunday morning. The Rev. Mr. Bunney is a long time friend of the minister, Shirley R. Shaw, and he has spoken before in the local church.

This will be the last Sunday of the earlier than usual summer morning hours of worship. The young people of the church will have their final seven o'clock service in Fourth street park, and will make of it a rally occasion after the unique worship around the camp fire on the beach last Sunday evening.

The last open air midweek worship of the summer will be held Wednesday evening at Fourth street park, after a basket supper which is to be under the auspices of the Young Matron's Missionary society.

The church is alert for the beginning of the fall program on the Sunday before public school begins, a week away.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Golden Text is from Micah: "He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

Among the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon are these verses from Deuteronomy: "Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God. . . . My doctrine shall drop as the rain, my speech shall distil as the dew, as the small rain upon the tender herb, and as the showers upon the grass: because I will publish the name of the Lord: ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he."

A passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, includes the following statement: "The Christ-like understanding of scientific being and divine healing includes a perfect Principle and idea,—perfect God and perfect man,—as the basis of thought and demonstration."

Noted Lecturer To Be Speaker Sunday at Church Service

Discussing "A Challenge to the Church," Dr. J. Stett Wilson, former mayor of Berkeley, will be the speaker at the Sunday morning union service to be held by the Methodist and Congregational churches in the First Methodist church in Ontario. Dr. Chas. L. Knight, pastor of Bethel Congregational church, will be in charge of the service.

Dr. Wilson is a world traveler and an able student of social and economic problems, especially as they obtain in the United States, Canada and England, and he has lectured extensively in this country and in Canada. He aided the British Labor party in three campaigns and assisted in electing a dozen or more labor members to the British House of Commons.

The public is extended a cordial invitation to attend the service.

Pioneers of Pomona Valley Annual Meet Set for September 9

The pioneers of Pomona valley will hold their annual meeting and picnic on Saturday, September 9, at "The Shell" in Ganesha park at Pomona.

The program this year will be of unusual interest. The addresses will be given by Mrs. W. T. Marvin and Col. Perrie Kewan, daughter and son of Col. E. J. C. Kewan, the founder of "El Molino," near San Gabriel, in the early fifties of the last century.

The choral class of the Women's Community club of Pomona (under the leadership of Mrs. Strong of Chino) and the Hoffman's Boys Hawaiian Trio will add to the enjoyment of the occasion by their music.

Business of far-reaching importance to the future of the organization will be presented at that time. It is hoped there will be a large attendance of the "Old Timers" and their friends.

News of American LEGION . . . and Auxiliary

Message From the President

The 400,000 women of the American Legion Auxiliary have been called into active service under the blue eagle of the National Recovery Administration, according to Mrs. W. J. Larkin, president of Upland unit No. 73 of the Auxiliary. An appeal for full support of the recovery program has been received from Mrs. S. Alford Blackburn, the Auxiliary's national president. The appeal said:

"For more than three years the women of the American Legion Auxiliary have been serving valiantly in the nation's struggle against the economic forces that have swept like a devastating invader over our country. In their communities in every part of the land they have been helping hold the front lines against hunger and despair. By their endeavors they have contributed inestimably to the nation's welfare during this long, dark period.

"Now under the National Recovery Administration, America is moving forward to an attack on the grave problems confronting it. The key position in this advance is held by the women of the country, and the American Legion Auxiliary, as the nation's largest women's patriotic organization, must give example and leadership to the patriotic endeavors of American womanhood.

"Therefore, I am calling upon each one of the Auxiliary's 400,000 members to give her full personal support to the program of the National Recovery Administration. I am urging each of the 8,065 Auxiliary units to offer its organized services to representatives of the administration in its community. Trained by long years of civic and patriotic activity, I am sure the Auxiliary can give powerful aid in restoring economic order.

"Sixteen years ago when our country was assailed by a foreign enemy, the women of America united behind the fighting ranks, and, animated by an exalted spirit of patriotism, did all within their power for the national cause. During the years that have passed since the war, that wartime spirit of service to country has been preserved in the American Legion Auxiliary. Today when an enemy, intangible but even more dangerous, is entrenched in every community, it is the Auxiliary's duty to help rekindle in the hearts of all American women a flaming patriotism that will again sweep them forward in united effort for America.

"I know that every American Legion Auxiliary member will respond loyally and energetically to this new call to nation's service.

RAY CHANDLER IS HERO AS GROWERS BEAT HOTPOINTS

Local Champs Win 11 to 4 Bat Melee, With Interest on Game Tonight

When a toy balloon is up in the air, the admirers have a fine time, but when a little air hole appears, it is too bad. Soon the thing folds up and is no more.

And so it is with baseball. In four innings of the second play-off game between Upland Lemon Growers and Ontario Hotpoint Wednesday night, the balloon, so to speak, was flying high, with the players in a royal battle.

The final score was 11 to 4, favoring the pride of Upland, and the result is such that all the interest is today centered on the third game of the series at Ontario tonight. The fourth game will come on the Upland lot next Wednesday.

A crowd that had shelled out some $60 to pack the local ball bleachers marvelled at the speed of the game—until the fifth inning.

Johnny Meek, who easily responds to the kidding from the fans, worked Pitcher Tedder for a walk to open that session. Jack Sheehan doubled and Herb Dean filled the bags, thanks to Tedder, who at one time was a member of the local Atwood team.

Ray Chandler isn't expected to do much with the bat, due to his heavy burden of pitching, but he surprised all of us with a two-bagger to clean the bases. Clyde Duncan, utility player, who did more in the outer gardens than any other fielder on the diamond, followed with another two-base whack. And that scored Chandler. Chad Cornelius fanned, but Bill Dowding scored Duncan.

Chandler was a happy man during the entire game. When he made a bad pitch or someone didn't play just as they should, he responded with a big, broad million dollar smile. But, why not, he says, for in the sixth inning he drove in another score, when he connected for a high fly, giving Second Baseman Sheehan a ride home.

From then on it was only a matter of how many scores and not who would win.

Manager Webber, of the visiting Hotpointers, wanted to take Tedder out but he said nothing doing. The game was lost anyway and why put in a fresh man. Or, the conversation went something like that, for Tedder returned to the box.

A short time later, however, he voluntarily gave up as the barrage continued. Beach is the first choice twirler for Ontario, and he left the bench to take up the job. He was called back Ontario's hopes rest on him tonight, so he was not used. A red-headed shortstop, a Chaffey jaysee student and a frequent heavy hitter. Skillman by name, took the role of a dark horse. Bill Kuhns, Ontario's league head, has seen every game this season on the Ontario lot and he says that was the first time he had ever seen Skillman in the box.

But this Tedder wasn't licked. He is known as the best all around player on the Hotpoint nine. He finished at short and then in the final frame with men on bases, he hit for a homer.

Base Ball in Upland 20 Years Ago

Time passes rapidly, but to Lyman Clark memories of baseball in Upland 20 years ago are vividly recalled. In his unusual knack of describing the diamond activities he gives in this final installment the story of a game between Upland and Los Angeles 20 years ago.

By Lyman Clark

"Quite a nice job of work," says Andy. "copping off a home run, a foot race and a fist fight all on one hit."

"That's nothing," comes back Frisbie, with an airy wave. "there are but few things in which I don't excell, and those few are of little consequence."

"Sap," Busby yelps, "How long has this bitter quarrel between you and yourself been going on?"

"For years," chimes in Andy. "I understand he shot at himself from ambush some time ago and has been seeking revenge ever since. Everyone's heard of the Frisbie-Frisbie feud."

"Why shouldn't I love myself?" demands Freddy, "I've seen nothing yet worthier of my admiration."

"You should visit Niagara Falls," suggests Lowden, "it makes a lot of noise, too.' '

"Or attend a concert at Chaffey auditorium," adds Jess, "and listen to some of the other wind-instruments."

In the argument that follows Frisbie's hit-run-and-hit performance, Freddy's score is disallowed and he is called out for interference, which retired the side with the score tied up 1 and 1.

To say Capt. Territer was furious with Frisbie's grandstand play is putting it mildly. He said little then but vowed he would say plenty after the game. In the eighth frame both pitchers pulled themselves together and there was nothing doing for either side.

The best the Teddy Bears could do in their half of the ninth was to work Craig for a base on balls. Upland had two men killed off when Tom Anderson again got hold of one of Watson's fast ones just where he wanted it and was sitting on the hot corner when the dust cleared away. This brought Earl Swan to the plate.

Now Sheets had been relating one of his funny continued stories to Swannie throughout the game and Earl came ambling out to the plate with a grin on his face. The fans were rooting hard for the winning run. Sheets gave Watson the sign and then worked Swan to 3 balls and 2 strikes. Whether Swannie forgot there were two out or whether he really got tangled up in Sheets' funny yarn I can't say, but at any rate Sheets gave his sign to Watson, then said something to Swannie.

Earl had to laugh and stepped out of the batter's box, leaned on his bat just as Watson shot over a perfect strike belt high.

And was Capt. Territer sore or was he sore, and did the rooters give poor Swannie the "raspberries." And the game was still tied up one and one.

Opening the tenth frame for the Teldy Bears, Rebele and Macklin had made their appearance at the plate and returned to the bench without helping their side any. Louden, with one hit already to his credit, picked up his trusty willow and told Dr. John to send 'em over. He let two of them go over when up comes one you could count the stitches on its way to the plate.

"Just what the blue print calls for," muttered Louden and, sock, away went the old apple out to deep centerfield toward Henry Klindt's house.

Now, over in Klindt's back yard was somebody's old black and tan dog roaming around for food. He evidently had had a losing battle with fleas from the looks of his hide in spots. The dog had his head down in a garbage pail when, wham, the ball cracked up against the house and rolled towards the lean hound.

Some time, somewhere, in the past this old Fido had been used to playing ball with the kids. As the ball rolled towards him he sighted Mel Riggs headed for him. All thoughts of eats left Fido as he snaps the ball up in his mouth and beats it back into the field. Riggs yelled and grabbing off his glove threw it at the dog. It was a lucky shot, hitting Mr. Hound back of the ear but that was part of the game, thought Fido and headed for Swannie, who had started over to help Riggs relay the ball home. When within 10 feet of Earl the dog stopped and seemed to say. "Come and get it."

Swannie held out his hand and started talking to him, then made a jump for the brute, but was the dog there? He was not. Leaving Earl sprawled on his stomach, Fido ran away toward a bunch of kids over on the side lines.

Louden had nearly reached third when he saw the dog heading out of the lot so Bill just coasted in with what proved to be the winning run as the Upland boys were not able to solve Watson's delivery for any good in their half of the tenth inning.

The local boys were downcast at losing this hotly contested game and headed for their dressing room, located in the Hotel Algonquin, now known as the Upland Inn.

Capt. Ferriter could hardly wait until he could spill what he had to say to Freddy Frisbie and while the boys were jerking off their baseball suits he walks up to the rah rah rookie and barks, "What the heck did you think you were playing this afternoon, football?"

"No," replies the kid gently. "but it may interest you to know I'm good at that too. I smacked into Woolridge and sprawled him because I refuse to allow ice wagons with square wheels to fix my rate of speed Has it ever occurred to you that the Upland team might win more games by switching from a freight to a passenger schedule?"

"What's that?" snarls Ferriter, taking a step forward, and the boys set themselves for a slaughter. Ferriter's not only a lad of short temper and sensitive of criticism, but undoubtedly wielded the readiest pair of fists in the town. Only a few weeks before, a bunch of players had ventured a slight difference of opinion and he'd laid three of them out in a row. But Freddy merely smiles and walks a bit closer to the chief.

"You heard me," says he quietly. "unless words of more than one syllable are over your head. I'd suggest that you put your fists in your pockets unless you need your fingers to talk with. I repeat: what this team needs is more speed and less browbeating."

"And what you need," howls Mr. Ferriter, "is a damn good beating"

He lunges at the kid—but Mrs. Frisbie raised no unprepared children. Freddy weaves away, and as Ferriter hurtles by, clips him one under the ear. The Upland captain is smeared against the wall and dazed. but with a roar he comes back for more. Frisbie's right there waiting for him.

With all his faults, the Upland team seemed mostly for the youngster. Nerve is nerve, wherever you meet it; and. besides, Ferriter was rotten ripe for a trimming. But there were several of the gang dubious of Freddy's chances.

Ferriter outweighed the rookie at least 30 pounds. and even giving him everything for skill, Frisbie didn't appear to pack enough to bedtime the boss. But it isn't so much what you pack as where you put it. Frisbie slithers away from Babb's wild swings, feints a hole into his defenses and bangs both fists to the button. Ferriter teeers on his heels, grabs frantically for some bars of air to hold onto, and slips to the floor. There's no more fight left in him than there is in a jack rabbit.

"Resuming the conversation of even date," says Frisbie, gazing down upon the fallen captain, "the Upland team must have more speed and better management. To that end—"

"You're fired," cuts in Ferriter thickly.

"I suggest," goes on Freddy, "you put me in at short, bench Means and Bowden—"

"Yeh!" flares up Bowden.

Frisbie swings swiftly on him. "Yeh," says he.

"Well," mumbles Andy, "I suppose that you're entitled to your opinion."

"You've noticed," smiles Freddy. "it carries weight."

"I hope," whispers Busby, vindictively to Craig. "that some one breaks him in two and crowds the pieces down his throat."

"I don't," comes back John, "I'm rooting for the kid. It may sound strange to you, but I've seen so many youngsters come to bat with two strikes already called on 'em, its a relief to find one who believes in himself. Anyhow, I'd rather see a lad with a swelled head than cold feet."

"All right," grunts Jess, "have it your way, but I'm still in favor of having him taken apart"

Up to this time Manager Tom Anderson had kept still. Now he got into the argument in a very decided manner. Going up to the rookie he took him by the arm and said, "Frisbie, I'll settle your bologny battle once and for all. You are no longer a member of the Upland baseball team. My advice to you is to draw your pay at the packing house and beat it. Go to some other town where they can appreciate a ball player with such a mental capacity as you possess."

Those who expected an explosion from the college boy were disappointed. for Frisbie without another word finished his dressing, and throwing his uniform in a far corner turned towards the door and still with a silly grin on his face as he gave one backward look at the gang he left the hotel and the Upland team saw him no more.

Yannigan Athletic Club Is Organized

Yannigan Athletic club, Alta Loma, has been formed, with the aim to maintain interest in athletics, particularly night baseball, and between now and next spring the membership hopes to make possible the purchase of suits for the team.

Elmo Holloway is president of the club, with Don Quashnick, secretary. Club rooms have been established at Amethyst avenue and Nineteenth street. Meetings are held every Monday night.

A Yannigan night baseball team played in the Alta Loma-Cucamonga club, and so successful was the season that plans were made to keep the team and the rooters organized and to sponsor athletic events during the year.

Gain Shown in Number of Car Registrations

Increase in the number of new cars being registered was reported for the past four months by Carl Dodson, deputy registrar of motor vehicles, with offices in San Bernardino. Total gain for the four months is 23,468 cars.

This increase is in keeping with word from the local car dealers that the number of new cars sold during this summer has been considerably larger than during last summer.

Circle To Welcome District Officers

An event of importance to all members of Upland circle No. 899, Neighbors of Woodcraft, will occur tonight when district officers and grand representatives are entertained during a regular circle meeting in the lodge hall in the I. O. O. F. building. Visitors are expected from all circles in the district and a program and social hour will follow the lodge meeting.

Dove Season Opened in California Today

Local sportsmen were out early this morning as the dove season opened in the state and have been bagging their share of the birds.

In San Bernardino county the season lasts until Oct. 31, which is also true of the counties of San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Diego, Riverside, Imperial, Orange, Mono and Inyo and the west part of Kern county.

Bag limit is 15 doves per day, with a limit of 30 for any one week. Not more than one day's bag limit may be had in possession at one time.

Doves are reported numerous in most Southern California counties and local dove hunters are anticipating great sport in this line this season.

Uplander To Aid in Meeting U.S.C. Frosh

James Guthrie of Upland, president of Alpha Eta Rho, international aviation fraternity, is among campus leaders at the University of Southern California who will welcome incoming freshmen to their first day at college upon the opening of freshmen week at U. S. C., Sept 20.

Trojan Knights, Squires and Amazons, tradition-enforcing organizations at U. S. C., will drop their stern countenances temporarily to act as guides and advisers to the neophytes while they are in the process of orienting themselves to their collegiate surroundings.

Enlistments in Air Corps Being Sought

In order to fill vacancies created during the past year by reason of transfers, resignation,, and other causes, 75 men will be enlisted in the air corps immediately, according to orders issued today by Lt. Col. H. H. Arnold, commanding officer of March Field.

"All enlistments will be accomplished at the army recruiting offices, either in the federal building, San Bernardino, or at Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, Col. Arnold stated.

20-30 CLUB PLANS FOR FALL PROGRAM

Directors Meet Tonight—Manker Speaks Tuesday on C. C. C. Activities

Directors of the Upland 20-30 club will meet tonight, discuss plans for the coming months, study the reasons why the San Bernardino 20-30 club is withdrawing from the 20-30 club association, and other matters.

Reports of the recent club convention at Santa Cruz were made at the meeting of the group in the Sycamore Inn Tuesday night by President Jack Korn, Lewis Chaney and Harry McKinney.

Speaker on the regular program was Fletcher H. Manker, who is in charge of fire suppression instruction at the Etiwanda Civilian Conservation camp in Day canyon. The Uplander reviewed the activities of the camp members and told of the large amount of work being done by the group.

"Mayor of Hell" Is Recommended Film

The picture, "Mayor of Hell," is far different than its name implies, Garey Carr, manager of the Studio theatre, said today in referring to the James Cagney picture that is being shown there and will be on tonight, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night.

"This is a family picture, and it has been recommended by the local motion picture council," Mr. Carr said.

The title, he explained, indicates it might be anything but a family picture and one that might receive the endorsement of local people. He, however, added his recommendation of the picture as one that had a story to tell and one that was entertaining.

Showing Sunday will be Lee Tracy in "The Nuisance."

ALTA LOMA-CUCAMONGA

Ashmead-Koch Wedding

In an impressive ceremony performed in St. Ambrose's Catholic church in Hollywood at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, Miss Katherine Ashmead and Ralph H. Koch, both talented young architects of Los Angeles, were united in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ashmead, of 511 Beryl avenue, and for some time has made her home in Los Angeles, where she has gained much recognition in her profession. She has many friends in the Cucamonga and Alta Loma communities who are interested in her marriage. Mr. Koch, also well known in Los Angeles as a talented architect, is having an attractive home erected in Lennox, which they will occupy upon its completion. In the meantime, after returning from their honeymoon trip, they will occupy an apartment in Lennox.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashmead went to Hollywood to attend the wedding, returning in the afternoon.

Hears of Mother's Death

A message telling of the death of his mother in Wenatchee, Wash., was received Wednesday night by Kenneth Deardorff and he left on Thursday morning to attend the funeral. He expects to return next week. During his absence, Mrs. Deardorff will stay with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Shaffer. Mr. and Mrs. Deardorff visited with his mother this summer and during the time she was ill for a few days, but had so nearly recovered before they left that no uneasiness was felt over her condition. Just recently she became very ill.

Miss Frances Loney of Pomona and Miss Crystal Bowhay of Upland were in Cucamonga Wednesday making arrangements for the opening of the Cucamonga Central school on Sept. 11. They and another member of the faculty, Miss Mary McGilvra of Whittier, will live at the C. P. Shaffer home during the coming school year.

Accident Prolongs Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Shaffer of Benson, Minn., are making a visit of indefinite length at the home of Mr. Shaffer's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Shaffer on West San Bernardino road, their honeymoon being unintentionally prolonged by hard luck, which may sound like a paradoxical statement. Several months before her marriage Mrs. Shaffer sustained a broken hip in an accident and was bedridden for five months. After her recovery the couple were married and came to California on their honeymoon. In Los Angeles Mrs. Shaffer fell and again broke her hip, which had not properly mended. As soon as she could be moved Mr. Shaffer brought her out to the home of his uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Shaffer. It probably will be some time before she is able to be up again.

"Whispering Gallery" Starts in Hollywood

Beginning with a matinee on Labor day, Monday, September 4, George K. Arthur will present that fine comedian, E. E. Clive, in a mystery comedy, "The Whispering Gallery," at the Hollywood Playhouse.

Mr. Clive has a high reputation in Boston and New York for his subtle comedy and hilarious farce interpretations. The role he will play in "The Whispering Gallery" is one that offers the comedian every opportunity for his talents. A splendid supporting cast includes Gerald Rogers, Betty Ross Clarke, Clare Verdera, Elspeth Dudgeon, Colin Craig, Charles MacNaughton, Henry Mowbray, and a dusky gentleman by the name of Alfred Celestin, who is second only to Mr. Clive in getting laughs.
